Dear Future Sponsor, Donor or Vendor:

It gives me great pleasure to share with you an opportunity to position your products, programs and, services in front of a community of committed women who have chosen to influence the future success of their families, their communities, their culture and their calling by intentionally investing in themselves.

On Saturday, April 25, 2020 GO! (God's Opportunity) in partnership with Malone University will host the 2nd Annual Women's Empowerment Network (WEN) symposium on the campus of Malone University in beautiful Canton, Ohio.

The Women's Empowerment Network (WEN) symposium will uncover the secret to living a life of purpose and fulfillment. Women will learn how to break the negative cycles that keep them stuck, stagnate and unproductive while gaining strategies that will position them to succeed at high levels in their relationships, finances, career, health and spiritual life.

I would like to invite you to take advantage of this unique opportunity to intimately engage with passionate, yet purpose driven women from various communities and cultures. Becoming a sponsor means you understand the value of a female audience and share our vision of developing the potential of women.

Enclosed are the various ways you can leverage the power of our network to expand the reach of your brand and increase your business bottom line.

ABOUT THE FOUNDER • KRISTA L. ALLISON, J.D.

Krista L. Allison has a passion and love for educating the whole child and recognizes that part of her work in education is helping our students understand they should dream big, be adventurous and dive in.

In 2015, Mrs. Allison was called by the Lord to start “GO!” (God’s Opportunity). GO! is a women’s small group Bible study that started as a weekly face-to-face meeting and over the past couple of years has expanded to online sessions. Each GO! Bible study is filled with engaging and in-depth biblical conversations and reflections on our individual walk with the Lord. GO! has completed over ten Bible studies including summer book read sessions. In addition, Mrs. Allison writes a weekly blog, the “Monday GO! Report” to share the good news of God’s love for us all. As Christians, she believes that we have been called to be the light and salt, to be God’s ambassadors here on earth. Matthew 5:13-16 states, Each day we have an opportunity to be the light and salt God has called us to be to others. As can be found in her weekly blog and a saying that has become precious to her, “Remember, each day is an opportunity for us to...Lead, Serve and GO!”

A graduate of Baldwin-Wallace College and Case Western Reserve School of Law, Mrs. Allison said that God made his purpose known in her life when she recognized that despite our best-laid plans for our lives, God always has a “Plan B.” Mrs. Allison serves in the youth ministry department at Jerusalem Missionary Baptist Church and her biggest joy is her family. She is married to Adrian E. Allison and they have two daughters, Averi and Anastasia.

PAST PARTICIPANT QUOTES:

“Having the opportunity to listen, learn and on love on women from all walks of life is a memory I cherish, and an experience I am looking forward to as we GO! again!”

“WEN was a time to encourage each other, empower one another and share the goodness and unconditional love of our Heavenly Father. As each of us continue to grow in our walk with the Lord, this day inspires us along our incredible journey.”
